

Recreation Management

Student Outcomes – Program Review Report compiled during 2012-13 Academic Year*

Students will have the ability to:

1. Understand and critically evaluate the significance of play, recreation and leisure around the world and throughout the life span. COAPRT 7.01
2. Analyze and understand the importance of leisure service delivery systems for diverse populations. COAPRT 7.02
3. Construct personal ethical leadership philosophies. COAPRT 7.04
4. Relate strategic planning, organization and personnel considerations to successful event planning. COAPRT 7.03 and 7.04
5. Demonstrate professional communication skills (oral, written, active listening and social media). COAPRT 7.04
6. Incorporate, on a daily basis, our Humanics philosophy in respective recreational organizations.
7. Evaluate current research and best practices in recreational management. COAPRT 7.04
8. Provide a critical analysis of contemporary ethical dilemmas in recreational programs. COAPRT 7.04
9. Develop professional relationships and personal friendships with Springfield College alumni who currently serve as international leaders within the recreation industry.

*Outcomes will be reviewed and updated in academic year 2014-15.