Academic Attire

At today's commencement, faculty and graduates will be attired in academic regalia gowns, hoods, and mortarboards.

The history of this distinctive costuming goes back to the medieval universities of Europe where gowns were worn every day, providing both identification of the academic discipline and added warmth in poorly heated buildings.

The formal attire for campuses in the United States was established in 1895 with the adoption of the Academic Costume Code. It enables one to identify the wearer's degree and course of study and, in many cases, the college or university that awarded the degree.

Gowns for recipients of bachelor's and master's degrees are made of black cotton without trimming. Doctoral gowns are faced down the front and back in velvet and have three bars of the same material across the sleeves. The bachelor's gown has open sleeves; the master's sleeves are longer and closed with arm slits at the elbow; and the doctoral bell-shaped sleeves extend to the wrist.

Hoods differ in length and are incrementally longer for each higher degree. The colored edging indicates the academic discipline and the lining signifies the official color or colors of the institution.

The black mortarboard with tassel is worn with each type of gown. Bachelor's and master's degree holders wear a black tassel and those who have earned a doctorate wear a gold tassel. In recent years, there has been a growing tendency to wear a colored tassel symbolizing, like the hood, the subject area in which the wearer has taken a degree.

Today, as in most academic processions, some people wear costumes that do not conform to standard patterns. This is especially true of people who hold degrees from foreign universities where colorful attire often is prescribed.

The Mace

The College Mace serves as a symbol of authority, just as it did in the Middle Ages when a mace bearer accompanied an official taking office or opening court. From the 16th century in England, and since colonial days in the United States, it has become a symbol of office used in ceremonies and is carried by the procession leader or macebearer. The Springfield College Mace was first used at the inauguration of Dr. Randolph W. Bromery, 11th president of Springfield College, on October 30, 1993, and was carried by Professor Frank Wolcott '52, grand marshal. It is traditionally carried at commencement in the spring and the convocation in the fall.

The Grand Marshal

Traditionally, the Grand Marshal carries the Mace, which bears the College seal. It is the responsibility of the Grand Marshal to lead the Academic Procession and serve as the representative of the faculty, which attests that students are, or will be, qualified to receive a Springfield College degree or certificate. Once the President announces that the degree has been conferred, the Grand Marshal raises and lowers the College Mace as a symbol that the Board of Trustees approves the conferral of these degrees.

Commencement Honors and Awards

Students receiving special College-awarded or institutional honors at commencement wear the following honor cords to signify their accomplishments:

Mary-Beth A. Cooper

Springfield College President

Mary-Beth A. Cooper, PhD, DM, became the 13th President of Springfield College in August 2013, bringing to the College her experience from a long and distinguished career in higher education administration and community service.

With her leadership, the Springfield College community has experienced a unified rededication to our Humanics philosophy and mission of leadership in service to others, and has committed itself to educational excellence through cultivation of partnerships that allow students to produce new knowledge and that engage diverse populations. Through collaboration and engagement, she fosters an internal environment that reflects shared governance among faculty, staff, and students, and an external environment that is safe and welcoming for the College community and its city neighbors.

She has created a strategic vision to build an institution that provides a student-centric experience and has overseen the implementation of many initiatives in support of that vision. Most recently, the College launched the $50 million Advancing Humanics comprehensive campaign and began the second phase of a dynamic strategic planning process. As part of both efforts, she worked with faculty, staff, and students to design the new 76,000-square-foot Health Sciences Center that is expected to open in fall 2023. She followed a similar process to create the innovative Harold C. Smith Learning Commons, which brings together faculty excellence, technology, and library services in a full-service learning, research, and project space. Under her leadership, Springfield College and the Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation partnered to create an intercollegiate adaptive baseball field to be enjoyed by athletes of all abilities and contained within our championship-quality intercollegiate baseball field. This field, referred to as the “Springfield Model” by the Ripken Foundation, is the first of its kind and includes an artificial turf field, bullpens, batting cages, a new grandstand, a new scoreboard, and sound system that serves both the adaptive and the Springfield College team fields.

Known for her volunteer leadership, President Cooper serves on the President’s Council of the NCAA, chairs the board of directors for Educare Springfield, and is the chair of the New England Women’s and Men’s Athletic Conference (NEWMAC). She is a past chair of the board of directors of the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities in Massachusetts and remains on its board. In addition, she serves on the boards of the Council of Independent Colleges, the Community Foundation of Western Massachusetts, the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, the United Way of Pioneer Valley, and the Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation. She previously served on the NCAA Division III Oversight Group to Implement Recommendations of Federal and State Legislation Working Group (also called the Name, Image, and Likeness Committee) and on the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities Committee on Policy Analysis and Public Relations. She was appointed by Massachusetts Gov. Charlie Baker to serve on the Special Commission to Study the Incorporation of Safe and Effective Pain Treatment and Prescribing Practices into the Professional Training of Students that may Prescribe Controlled Substances.

President Cooper earned a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Delaware, a Master of Education from the University of Georgia, a Master of Business Administration from the University of Rochester, a Doctor of Philosophy in education administration from Michigan State University, and a Doctor of Management from Case Western Reserve University.

President Cooper lives on the Springfield College campus with her husband, Dave, and their chocolate lab, Jack. They have a son, Calvin, a 2nd Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force Services.

Peter G. Watson '79, G'80

*Retired President and CEO, Greif, Inc.
Commencement Speaker*

Peter G. Watson '79, G'80, recently retired from Greif Inc., a $6.3 billion global packaging company, where he was president and CEO for six years, and most recently executive chairman of the Board of Directors.

As CEO, Watson led Greif with the vision “To be the best performing customer service company in the world.” This vision, together with developing a culture based on servant leadership, was adopted by Greif’s 16,000 global colleagues, and propelled Greif to be a global leader in industrial packaging.

Watson’s industrial packaging company serves customers in more than 37 countries around the world. At Greif, Inc., Watson served in several executive positions, including group president for paper packaging. Prior to his business career, he was a college football coach at Springfield College, Cornell University, and Wake Forest University. These experiences greatly informed his business leadership style.

At Springfield College, Watson earned a Bachelor of Science in Community Education in 1979 and a Master of Education in Teaching Education and Administration in 1980.

Watson is a frequent contributor to the Springfield College campus, including serving as the Executive in Residence in the Department of Business Management, where he lectures in classes on various topics, such as leadership, strategic management, and career preparation. He also conducts one-on-one mentoring sessions with upper class and Master of Business Administration students.

In his retirement, Watson will focus his time and energy on teaching and mentoring young professionals and college students on leadership and global business. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of OhioHealth and the Founder’s Board of Leadership at the Fisher College of Business at Ohio State University. He previously served on the Board of Directors of the Central Ohio American Heart Association, the Columbus Partnership, and Ohio Partnership and the Ohio Business Roundtable. Watson is the past chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Forest & Paper Association and Fibre Box Association.

A Song for Springfield

*Now raise a song for Springfield,
Let hearts and voices blend
To celebrate her praises,
Whose fame shall have no end;
While fellowship makes holy,
While eager hope elates,
And visioned youth come thronging
Her spacious gates.*

*Earthwide may happy childhood
Lift high its wond'ring eyes,
Strong youth bring back the vision
Of earthly paradise;
To follow truth to wisdom,
Nor faint thro' falt'ring fears,
Be this thy task, O Springfield,
Thro' all the years.*
